
Snapdragon Design Sprayskirts

Snapdragon Design Sprayskirts Rich Wilson has been building the best quality skirts out there for as many years as I've been in the business, and I don't expect that to change any time soon. Construction and materials are the best in the industry, and most importantly, his skirts are built to be functional and to last. With our tour business, we took about 5,000 people paddling per year for the last 10+ years, and his skirts got plenty of wear and tear as a result. Because we did manage to wear some out, we learned that his support is always excellent, and his skirts are constantly evolving to be more wear resistant and durable. Naturally, we can get any of his products, but typically stock the:
